The Definition of Spiritual Friendship

Aelred defines spiritual friendship as a deep bond between individuals that is rooted in a shared commitment to seeking God. This form of friendship is characterized by several key elements:

1. Mutual Support: Friends encourage one another in their spiritual journeys and help each other resist temptation.
2. Shared Values: Spiritual friends align their lives with Christian teachings, creating a foundation for their relationship.
3. Divine Love: The bond of spiritual friendship is ultimately grounded in the love of God, which acts as the source and sustenance of their connection.
4. Openness and Honesty: Aelred emphasizes the importance of transparency in friendships, where individuals can share their struggles and joys without fear of judgment.

Stages of Spiritual Friendship

Aelred describes different stages of spiritual friendship, highlighting how relationships can evolve as individuals grow in their faith:

1. Attraction: The initial phase where individuals are drawn to one another based on shared values or experiences.
2. Affection: As the friendship deepens, affection grows, characterized by mutual care and concern.

3. Spiritual Growth: Friends motivate each other toward greater holiness and divine closeness, fostering spiritual development.
4. Transcendence: The ultimate goal of spiritual friendship is to lead each other closer to God, transcending personal interests for a higher purpose.

The Role of Love in Spiritual Friendship

Aelred emphasizes that love is at the heart of spiritual friendship. He distinguishes between different kinds of love, including:
