Each item has specific guidelines regarding fit, wear, and placement, which are crucial for achieving a uniform and professional look.

Step-by-Step Guide to Setting Up the Army Class A Uniform

Here's a detailed guide on how to properly set up and wear each component of the Army Class A uniform for females.

1. Army Green Service Uniform (AGSU) Jacket

The AGSU jacket is the centerpiece of the Class A uniform.

- Fit: Ensure the jacket fits comfortably, allowing for ease of movement. The jacket should be tapered at the waist and should not exceed the hipline.
- Placement: The jacket's collar should lay flat against the collarbone. The sleeves should extend just past the wrist, allowing for a slight break.
- Insignia: The rank insignia should be placed on the epaulets. The unit insignia (if applicable) is located on the left side of the jacket, with the nameplate centered above the right pocket.

2. Army Green Service Uniform (AGSU) Skirt or Trousers

Female soldiers have the option of wearing either a skirt or trousers.

- Skirt: The skirt should fall to the top of the knee and fit snugly without being tight. It should be worn with a slight flair at the bottom.
- Trousers: If choosing trousers, they should be tailored to fit properly with a straight leg style. The hem should touch the top of the shoe.

3. Shirt

The uniform shirt is typically a long-sleeve button-up.

- Fit and Color: Ensure it is the appropriate shade of Army green and fits well. The sleeves should not extend beyond the wrist.
- Placement: The shirt should be tucked in, with no excess fabric showing at the waist.

4. Necktie or Neck Tab

The necktie or neck tab is an important accessory for the Class A uniform.

- Necktie: If wearing a necktie, it should be tied in a traditional knot, with the pointed end falling between the third and fourth button of the shirt.
- Neck Tab: Alternatively, a neck tab can be worn, which should be centered and secured with a tie clasp.

5. Insignia and Badges

Proper placement of insignia and badges is crucial for maintaining uniform standards.

- Badges: Badges such as the Army marksmanship badge or any special skill badges should be worn above the left pocket, centered horizontally.
- Ribbons: Ribbons are worn above the left pocket. Ensure all ribbons are in order of precedence.

6. Footwear

Footwear completes the uniform and must be polished.

- Type: Black dress shoes are required. Ensure they are clean and in good condition.
- Fit: Shoes should fit comfortably and provide adequate support.

7. Headgear

Headgear is an essential component of the Army Class A uniform.

- Type: The standard headgear is the Army service cap. Ensure it is properly shaped and clean.
- Placement: The cap should be worn with the brim straight and centered on the forehead.

8. Accessories

Accessories add a personal touch but must comply with Army regulations.

- Jewelry: Minimal jewelry is allowed. For instance, one pair of stud earrings is permitted, and rings should be limited to a wedding band and a single ring on one hand.
- Makeup: If makeup is worn, it should be conservative and complement the uniform.

Maintaining Your Army Class A Uniform

Proper maintenance of the Army Class A uniform is essential for ensuring it remains in excellent condition.

1. Cleaning

- Washing: Follow the care instructions on the label. Typically, the jacket and trousers can be dry cleaned, while the shirt may be machine washed.
- Ironing: Ensure all components are wrinkle-free. Use a steam iron to press the fabric carefully.

2. Storage

- Hanging: Use a sturdy hanger to store the jacket, and avoid folding it to prevent creases.
- Avoid Moisture: Store the uniform in a cool, dry place away from direct sunlight to prevent fading.
