Coq au Vin, traditionally made with chicken braised in wine, mushrooms, lardons, and aromatic vegetables, is a dish that evokes warmth and nostalgia, making it a perfect centerpiece for gatherings or cozy family dinners. In this article, we will explore the origins of Coq au Vin, the unique aspects of Bill Granger's interpretation, and provide a detailed recipe along with tips for success.

Understanding Coq au Vin

Coq au Vin is a rustic French dish that translates to "rooster in wine" and has its roots in the Burgundy region of France, where red wine is a staple ingredient. Traditionally, this dish was made with a rooster, which would be simmered slowly to tenderize the meat and infuse it with the flavors of the wine and herbs. Over time, the recipe has evolved, and chicken is now commonly used, making it more accessible to home cooks.

The Key Ingredients

The heart of Coq au Vin lies in its ingredients, which contribute to the dish's rich and complex flavors.

Here are the essential components:

1. Chicken: Traditionally, whole rooster or chicken pieces are used, but Bill Granger often opts for chicken thighs for their juiciness and flavor.
2. Red Wine: A good quality red wine, preferably a Burgundy or Pinot Noir, is crucial. It not only flavors the dish but also tenderizes the meat.
3. Mushrooms: Typically button or cremini mushrooms, which add earthiness and texture.
4. Lardons or Bacon: These provide a savory depth and richness to the dish.
5. Onions: Pearl onions are often used for their sweetness and presentation.
6. Garlic: Fresh garlic enhances the overall flavor profile.
7. Herbs: Thyme, bay leaves, and parsley are commonly used to infuse the dish with aromatic notes.
8. Carrots: Added for sweetness and color, they complement the other ingredients beautifully.

Bill Granger's Unique Spin

Bill Granger's interpretation of Coq au Vin stands out due to his emphasis on simplicity and freshness.

He focuses on using high-quality ingredients and streamlining the cooking process, making it more approachable for the average home cook. Here are some unique aspects of his version:

1. Fresh Herbs: Granger often incorporates fresh herbs at the end of cooking to brighten the dish.
2. Balanced Flavor: He aims for a balance between the richness of the wine and the freshness of the vegetables, ensuring that the dish doesn't become overly heavy.
3. Quick Cooking: While traditional recipes may require long braising times, Granger's method often cuts down on cooking time without sacrificing flavor.
4. Serving Suggestions: He often pairs the dish with lighter sides, such as a simple green salad or crusty bread, to complement the richness of the Coq au Vin.

Here is a detailed recipe inspired by Bill Granger's Coq au Vin. This version is designed to be straightforward yet delicious, perfect for a family meal or entertaining guests.

Ingredients

- 4 chicken thighs, bone-in and skin-on
- 150g lardons or diced bacon
- 200g button mushrooms, halved
- 2 cups red wine (preferably Burgundy or Pinot Noir)
- 1 cup chicken stock
- 1 large onion, diced
- 2 carrots, sliced
- 3 cloves garlic, minced
- 2 sprigs fresh thyme
- 2 bay leaves
- 2 tablespoons olive oil
- Salt and pepper to taste
- Fresh parsley, chopped (for garnish)

Instructions

1. Prepare the Ingredients:

- Pat the chicken thighs dry with paper towels and season with salt and pepper.
- In a large Dutch oven or heavy pot, heat the olive oil over medium heat.

2. Cook the Bacon:

- Add the lardons or diced bacon to the pot and cook until crispy. Remove with a slotted spoon and set aside, leaving the fat in the pot.

3. Brown the Chicken:

- In the same pot, add the seasoned chicken thighs, skin-side down, and brown on both sides, about 5-7 minutes per side. Remove the chicken and set it aside with the bacon.

4. Sauté the Vegetables:

- In the remaining fat, add the onions, carrots, and mushrooms. Sauté until the onions are translucent, about 5 minutes. Add the garlic and cook for an additional minute until fragrant.

5. Deglaze the Pot:

- Pour in the red wine, scraping up any browned bits from the bottom of the pot. Bring it to a simmer and let it reduce for about 5 minutes.

6. Add Chicken and Stock:

- Return the chicken and bacon to the pot. Add the chicken stock, thyme, and bay leaves. Bring to a gentle simmer.

7. Braise:

- Cover the pot and let it simmer for 30-40 minutes, or until the chicken is tender and cooked through.

8. Serve:

- Remove the thyme and bay leaves. Adjust seasoning with salt and pepper as necessary. Garnish with fresh parsley before serving.
