Examples of Crazy Interview Questions

In this section, we will explore some popular crazy interview questions along with effective strategies for answering them.

1. “If you were a fruit, what fruit would you be and why?”

This question is designed to assess how candidates perceive themselves and their personality traits. The response can reveal a lot about a candidate's self-awareness and ability to articulate their qualities.

Answer Strategy: Choose a fruit that reflects your personality or work style. For example, if you consider yourself adaptable and versatile, you might choose a banana, as it can be eaten in various ways and is universally liked. Explain your choice with relevant traits that align with the job requirements.

2. “How many ways can you think of to get a pencil from one side of the room to the other?”

This question tests creativity and lateral thinking. The interviewer is looking for unique and inventive solutions.

Answer Strategy: Start by brainstorming several ideas, and don't hesitate to think outside the box. You could mention options like rolling the pencil, using a fan, or even enlisting the help of a colleague. The key is to demonstrate your ability to generate multiple solutions and think creatively.

3. “If you could have any superpower, what would it be and why?”

This question gauges your aspirations and values while also providing insight into your personality.

Answer Strategy: Choose a superpower that aligns with the job description. For instance, if you’re applying for a leadership role, you might say you’d want the power of persuasion to inspire and motivate others. Explain how this superpower would help you in your professional life.

4. “If you were a kitchen appliance, which one would you be?”

This question assesses how well candidates can relate their skills and characteristics to everyday objects.

Answer Strategy: Choose an appliance that symbolizes your abilities. For example, if you consider yourself resourceful and efficient, you might choose a multi-cooker because it can perform various tasks in the kitchen. Connect your answer back to relevant skills that make you a strong candidate.

5. “Why are manhole covers round?”

This question tests the candidate’s reasoning and ability to think logically about everyday objects.

Answer Strategy: A good answer would involve explaining the practical reasons for the round shape—such as the fact that a round cover cannot fall through its circular opening.
