4. Demeter: The goddess of agriculture, grain, and fertility, Demeter is crucial for the sustenance of life. Her grief over the abduction of her daughter Persephone by Hades explains the changing seasons.
5. Athena: Born from the head of Zeus, Athena is the goddess of wisdom, courage, and warfare. She is known for her strategic skills in battle and is often associated with crafts and weaving.
6. Apollo: The god of the sun, music, poetry, and prophecy, Apollo embodies knowledge and enlightenment. He is also associated with healing and the arts.
7. Artemis: The twin sister of Apollo, Artemis is the goddess of the hunt, wilderness, and childbirth. She is often depicted with a bow and arrows and is a protector of young women.
8. Ares: The god of war, Ares represents the chaotic and violent aspects of battle. Unlike Athena, who embodies strategy, Ares thrives on the bloodshed of war.

10. Hephaestus: The god of fire and craftsmanship, Hephaestus is known for his skill in metalworking and creating divine weapons. Despite his physical imperfections, he is married to Aphrodite.
11. Hermes: The messenger of the gods, Hermes is the god of trade, travel, and trickery. He is known for his speed and cunning, often acting as a guide for souls to the underworld.
12. Dionysus: The god of wine, fertility, and festivity, Dionysus is associated with ecstasy and revelry. He represents the liberating and chaotic aspects of life.
