Mark Virkler's Approach to Hearing God's Voice

Mark Virkler emphasizes a relational approach to hearing from God. He believes that communication with God is not only possible but essential for a thriving Christian life. His teachings often center around four key principles that facilitate this communion:

1. Two-Way Journaling

Two-way journaling is a technique where individuals write down their thoughts and prayers, and then listen for God's responses. This practice encourages active engagement with God and opens the door for divine dialogue. To start two-way journaling, follow these steps:

1. Begin with a brief prayer, asking God to speak to you.
2. Write down your thoughts, questions, or concerns in a journal.
3. Pause and listen for God's response, writing down anything that comes to mind.
4. Reflect on the message received and seek to understand its implications.

2. Visual Imagery

Virkler teaches that God often communicates through pictures and visions. By quieting the mind and focusing on God, individuals can receive visual insights that carry spiritual significance. To practice this:

1. Find a quiet space where you can be alone with God.
2. Close your eyes and take deep breaths to relax.
3. Ask God to show you something meaningful through a vision.
4. Pay attention to any images that come to mind, and consider what they might mean.

3. Listening Prayer

Listening prayer is a practice that involves waiting on God and allowing Him to speak. This can be done during personal prayer time or in a group setting. To engage in listening prayer:

1. Begin with worship or praise to center your thoughts on God.
2. Present your questions or concerns to God.
3. Spend several minutes in silence, actively listening for His voice.
4. Record any thoughts, impressions, or scriptures that come to mind.

4. Scripture Meditation

Mark Virkler emphasizes the importance of scripture as a means of hearing God's voice. Meditating on biblical passages allows individuals to reflect on God's character and promises. To practice scripture meditation:

1. Select a verse or passage that resonates with you.
2. Read it slowly and reflectively.
3. Ask God to reveal insights about how this scripture applies to your life.
4. Write down any revelations or thoughts that arise during meditation.

Overcoming Barriers to Hearing God

Many believers struggle to hear God's voice due to various barriers. Mark Virkler identifies some common obstacles and offers solutions:

1. Distractions

Modern life is full of distractions that can drown out God's voice. To combat this, create a dedicated quiet time and space for prayer and reflection.

2. Doubt

Doubting one's ability to hear from God can hinder communication. Virkler encourages believers to step out in faith, trusting that God desires to speak and connect.

3. Unforgiveness

Unresolved issues of unforgiveness can create barriers to hearing God. Releasing these burdens through prayer and reconciliation can clear the way for clearer communication.

4. Lack of Expectation

Approaching prayer with a sense of expectation can enhance the ability to hear God. Believing that He will speak encourages openness and receptivity.
