Origins of the Phrase

The phrase "I will fear no evil" is derived from the Bible, specifically from Psalm 23, which is attributed to King David. This psalm is one of the most well-known pieces of scripture and has been a source of comfort and inspiration for countless individuals across generations.

Psalm 23: A Source of Comfort

Psalm 23 reads as follows (in the King James Version):

1. The Lord is my shepherd; I shall not want.
2. He maketh me to lie down in green pastures: he leadeth me beside the still waters.
3. He restoreth my soul: he leadeth me in the paths of righteousness for his name's sake.
4. Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil: for thou art with me; thy rod and thy staff they comfort me.
5. Thou preparest a table before me in the presence of mine enemies: thou anointest my head with oil; my cup runneth over.
6. Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life: and I will dwell in the house of the Lord for ever.

The most notable part of this passage is verse 4, which emphasizes the idea of walking through perilous situations without fear, due to the presence and guidance of a higher power. This provides a sense of security and hope, making it a cornerstone of faith for many believers.
