

Lord Lord I Never Knew You

Lord, Lord, I Never Knew You is a phrase that resonates deeply within Christian theology, particularly in discussions surrounding salvation, faith, and the nature of a personal relationship with God. This expression originates from the Gospel of Matthew in the New Testament, specifically Matthew 7:21-23, where Jesus warns against false prophets and emphasizes the importance of knowing Him. This article will delve into the biblical context, theological implications, and practical applications of this phrase, shedding light on its significance for believers today.

The Biblical Context of "Lord, Lord, I Never Knew You"

The Passage in Matthew

The phrase "Lord, Lord, I never knew you" is found in Matthew 7:21-23, which reads as follows (ESV):

> "Not everyone who says to me, 'Lord, Lord,' will enter the kingdom of heaven, but the one who does the will of my Father who is in heaven. On that day many will say to me, 'Lord, Lord, did we not prophesy in your name, and cast out demons in your name, and do many mighty works in your name?' And then will I declare to them, 'I never knew you; depart from me, you workers of lawlessness."

This passage is part of the Sermon on the Mount, where Jesus teaches about the true nature of discipleship and the dangers of superficial faith. It serves as a stark reminder that verbal acknowledgment of Jesus as Lord is not sufficient for salvation; rather, a genuine relationship with Christ and obedience to God's will are paramount.
