IDENTIFYING PERSUASION TECHNIQUES
Read the following extract from a famous political speech by Winston Churchill, and then fill in the table below.

Extract from "Blood, Toil, Tears & Sweat"

"We have before us an ordeal of the most grievous kind. We have before us many, many long months of struggle and of suffering. You ask, what is our policy? I can only say: It is to wage war, by sea, land and air, with all our might and with all the strength that God can give us; to wage war against a monstrous tyranny, never surpassed in the dark, lamentable catalogue of human crime. That is our policy. You ask, what is our aim? I can answer in one word. It is victory, victory at all costs, victory in spite of all terror, victory, however long and hard the road may be; for without victory, there is no survival. Let that be realized, no survival for the British Empire, no survival for all that the British Empire has stood for, no survival for the urge and impulse of the ages, that mankind will move forward towards its goal. But I take up my task with buoyancy and hope. I feel sure that our cause will not be suffered to fall amongst men. At this time I feel entitled to claim the aid of all, and I say, 'Come then, let us go forward together with our united strength.'"

Winston Churchill
was a British politician and Prime Minister of the United Kingdom during the Second World War. He was also an excellent public speaker, orator and writer.

This extract comes from a speech he delivered on May 13th 1940. He has just been made Prime Minister of the United Kingdom and it was the first part of it.

TECHNIQUE	EXAMPLE	EFFECT
Rule of Three	"... by sea, land and air..."	By listing points in sets of three, they are made more memorable and emphasized. Here, the instructions for war are listed as three points and thus made clear and highlighted.
Use of Pronouns	"We" / "I"	Using "we" helps Churchill to include himself with his audience which creates a shared sense of purpose and unity. However, when he switches to "I" he indicates his sense of personal duty and confidence, as he assures his audience of his responsibility.
Credibility (Ethos)	"... all the strength that God can give us..."	By mentioning God here, Churchill is implying that God is for them, which adds credibility to their cause. Similarly, it implies he holds Christian views, which = to an audience of the time = would make him trustworthy.
Loaded Words	"Victory"	He repeats this word five times and if it is loaded with underlying meaning. It is positively connoted and appeals to the emotions of his audience – most notably their patriotic feelings and desire to win the war.
Anaphora	"to wage war..." repeated twice / "he survived..." repeated 3 times	These uses of anaphora repetition at the beginning of successive clauses reinforce the idea that they must go to war / the idea that without victory there will be no existence worth living. This repetition emphasizes Churchill's point and makes it memorable.
Aliteration	"... the strength that God can give us..."	By repeating the 's' sound in "strength" and "God", Churchill creates a rhythmic quality to his speech which makes it more memorable.
Rhetorical Question	"You ask, what is our aim?"	By asking a rhetorical question, Churchill engages his audience and makes them feel involved in the speech. It also emphasizes his point that he answers and what is his aim.
